Soviet Station May Hit Planet Venus in May

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—A 1,148-pound Soviet "space station" hurtled toward a mid-May rendezvous with the planet Venus today after a spectacular piggy-back launching the United States does not expect to achieve for another 18 to 24 months.

The space traveler carrying a banner emblazoned with the Soviet coat of arms should reach the orbit of Venus when earth's sister planet will be about 26 million miles away, the Soviets said.

The latest Soviet space shot—second in eight days—was aimed at investigating conditions on and around the planet, whose perpetual mantle of clouds has made it a mystery to scientists.

Scientists and officials on both sides of the iron curtain hailed the Venus shot as the greatest space feat since the Soviet Union orbited her first Sputnik three years ago. It adds to the Soviet Union's other claimed accomplishments, which include hitting the moon with a rocket, photographing the far side of the moon and orbiting the sun.

The White House issued a terse statement that President Kennedy had been advised of the rocket fire and that the United States has been tracking it ever since. A Defense Department spokesman said the Pentagon knew about the firing before the Soviet Union announced it Sunday.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in Washington the United States is at least 1½ to 2 years from achieving the kind of several-stage launching of such a large object reported by the Soviets. But he said he was not surprised by the announcement.

"We have known for some time," Dryden said, "that they had the booster (rocket) capability for such a mission."

The Soviet announcement indicated the Venus launching was an extremely complex operation. It was a multistage rocket carried to a Sputnik into orbit, another rocket was launched from the Sputnik and the second rocket fired off "an automatic interplanetary" station with the intent either of hitting Venus or going into orbit around it.

GOPs Accuse Mr. Goldberg of 'Politics'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee today accused Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg of playing politics with the unemployment problem.

An article in the committee's official publication, Battle Line, described as a political junket the five-state swing Goldberg completed Sunday. The committee complained because, it said, Republicans were excluded from participating.

The labor secretary toured depressed areas in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania over the weekend. He talked to jobless workers about the Kennedy administration's plans to help them.

Goldberg reported afterward Kennedy had followed the trip with great interest and considered it "very worthwhile." He expressed confidence that the administration could deal effectively with the unemployment problems.

Meanwhile, the labor secretary mapped a new series of town meetings across the nation to get a first-hand look at the plight of the jobless.

Battle Line's article said:

"The fact that Republicans were excluded from participation in Goldberg's so-called 'inspection tour' stamps the secretary's trip as nothing more nor less than a political junket designed mainly to spur pessimistic publicity—in the hope the publicity, in turn, will help the Kennedy program on divided Capitol Hill."

The labor secretary said he soon will hit the road again to visit the South and West and such areas as West Virginia, Massachusetts and the Mesabi iron range in Minnesota.

As on his first tour, Goldberg said he would talk with unemployed workers and their families and consult in "town meeting" type sessions with labor, management and local government leaders to get their ideas on how the recession can be licked.

"I am sure we will be able to alleviate the effects of unemployment and put the country back to work," the secretary said confidently on his return to Washington Sunday night.

He reported wide acceptance of Kennedy's plans to supply extra jobless benefits, grants to needy children, a higher minimum wage, and aid to education, housing and aged health needs.

Criticism of the Kennedy proposals came Sunday from Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in separate television-radio interviews.

Ellender said of the depressed areas bill "it is just another grab for power by those who can think only in terms of a bigger and bigger government."

12 Deaths by Violence in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twelve persons died violently in Arkansas in the week ended at midnight Sunday, seven in traffic accidents.

Two were shot to death and one each died by drowning, fire and asphyxiation.

C. J. Knight, 56, of Swifton, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car as he walked along U.S. Highway 67 about a mile north of Alicia. State Police said the car was driven by Mrs. Emmil Facchinori of Walnut Ridge.

Niles D. Stevens, 49, a Little Rock auto supply company executive, drowned Saturday when a boat in which he and his 8-year-old daughter, Ellen, were riding capsized in a suburban lake.

The girl was pulled out of the water unharmed. Stevens' body was recovered Sunday.

Edwin Martello Jr., 27, of Little Rock, was injured fatally Saturday night when his car went out of control and crashed into a tree four miles north of North Little Rock on state Highway 5.

Mrs. Kathryn Magnus, 65, of Fort Smith was killed Saturday night when struck by a car as she crossed a street in a Fort Smith residential district. Police said driver of the car was Robert Taylor, 18, of Fort Smith.

Russia Opens 4th Stage of Space Probe

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union's Venus-bound messenger is her most spectacular and significant space shot in months.

1. It apparently opens a fourth phase in the Soviet space program—to explore the planets. The next and fifth stage could be to put man into space.

2. The Soviet Union created, in effect, a space platform from which to launch a talkative and guided visitor with a good chance of hitting or going into orbit around Venus. Orbiting and seemingly innocent space platforms, say some military experts, might also be used suddenly to launch nuclear warhead rockets downward at prime targets on earth.

3. It is another dramatic demonstration of the Soviet lead in space capabilities, and of quick exploitation of space frontiers before that capability is equalled or surpassed.

To amplify these points: The Soviet Union's first phase was three Sputniks exploring space and space conditions near earth. Then came three shots concerned largely with the moon. Then three studying effects on animals and other life in space travel around the earth.

Now the fourth stage is the exploratory reach towards nearby planets, with a space craft carrying a Soviet banner, as did the one which hit the moon in 1959.

Veiled by obscuring white clouds, Venus is a worthy first planetary target. The weight—1,419 pounds—of the Venus messenger indicates it carries instruments which could answer puzzling questions about Venus, if the probe comes near enough in mid-May and still can radio back what it finds.

One dream for the space age is to rocket up into a precise orbit the prefabricated material which men in space then could put together to fashion great service stations from which big and lightweight space ships, also assembled in space, could take off efficiently on the months-long space missions.

The Soviets have taken steps along these lines.

Faubus Steps Into Highway Money Issue

By ED CHESNUTT

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus stepped in today to try to settle the controversy over allotment of state road money.

He met with four of the five members of the Highway Commission and then held a similar closed session with officials of the Arkansas County Judges Association.

A third meeting was scheduled with spokesmen for the Arkansas Municipal League.

The commission is now resisting any diversion of money it says it needs for road building.

The judges want more money for county roads, and the league officials want more for city streets.

Faubus said the series of meetings was for "a general discussion of city, county and highway Department problems."

"There may be no conclusions," he added.

Chairman Harry Parkin of Little Rock was absent from the Highway Commission meeting.

Judges Ray Sikes of Ashdown, the president; Rex Downing of Harrisburg, a vice president, and R. D. Howell of Russellville, secretary-treasurer, represented the judges association at the second conference.

William J. Smith, Faubus's legislative secretary, also participated in the meetings.

The Senate last week passed a bill to give each of the 75 counties an additional $20,000 a year to be used to match federal money for its county highway system.

Opponents in the House forced weekend adjournment on Friday rather than permit the bill to come to a vote.

The Senate last week passed a bill to give the cities an estimated $14 million from road money by changing the turnback formula.

The house earlier defeated a similar bill.

Smith recalled that in 1957 "we stepped in and got everybody together. I don't know whether we can do it this time or not, but we are going to try."

Smith said Faubus had been asked by legislators to confer with the competing groups.

Some members of the groups made a similar request, Smith said.

Lumumba, 2 Others Killed by Tribesmen in New Congo Crisis

UN Proposes Probe of Death of Lumumba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld today proposed a full and impartial investigation of the death of Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba in Katanga Province.

Hammarskjöld told the U.N. Security Council he had instructed Brig. Gen. Monesha Hwasu, chief of staff of the U.N. Congo Command, to insist upon complete cooperation of the Katanga authorities.

He spoke as the council met in a crisis atmosphere caused by the news of Lumumba's death.

U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson quickly threw his support behind the secretary-general's proposal. He called the news "distressing and deplorable."

Stevenson appealed to all governments to avoid action which might inflame the situation and to continue to give support to the United Nations to insure success of its mission in the Congo.

He called for an acceleration of efforts to find a Congo peace formula.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin declared that the provincial government of Moïse Tshombe must be made to pay for the killing of Lumumba.

He also assailed Hammarskjöld, blaming him for permitting such a thing under the blue flag of the United Nations.

"We find a hypocritical ring in these proposals for a so-called investigation," Zorin declared. "We have not the slightest confidence in the secretary-general or his staff after all that has been committed in the Congo and Katanga."

Zorin criticized other members of the U.N. Council for turning down a Soviet request for a private meeting on the Congo.

Venus Third Brightest Sky Object

NEW YORK (AP)—The planet Venus, target of the Russian rocket, is the third brightest object in the earth's sky and this month is near its brightest stage.

Only the sun and moon are brighter.

Venus comes to within 26 million miles of the earth—closer than any other planet—but it presents many mysteries. The view of the surface of Venus is blocked by clouds around it.

Some astronomers say Venus may be too hot for any form of life.

Because Venus is so close to the sun—67 million miles—it gets about twice as much sunlight and heat as the earth. In addition, its cloud cover and the large amount of carbon dioxide in its atmosphere may let sunlight in but prevent heat from escaping—much in the manner of the glass of a greenhouse. The average distance between the sun and earth is 92.9 million miles.

Venus is about 7,700 miles in diameter, near the size of the earth. Its weight or mass is estimated at about 81 per cent of the earth's mass.

The planet turns on its axis about once every 243 days. The year on Venus—the time it takes to circle the sun—is 225 days.

Conviction of Louderdale Is Upheld

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court in a 4-3 decision today upheld the conviction of 50-year-old segregationist leader E. A. Lauderdale in connection with a series of bombings in Little Rock on Labor Day, 1959.

Lauderdale was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $50 after he was convicted as the mastermind of a plot which resulted in three nighttime dynamite bombings.

The case in which he was specifically charged was a blast at the headquarters of the Little Rock school board.

Other explosions the same night damaged the business office of Mayor Werner Knapp.

Incident May Bring New Civil War Threat

By ADRIAN PORTER

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Patrice Lumumba is dead, the Katanga government announced today, and the African villagers who killed him have received a reward of $8,000.

The interior ministry of this secessionist province declared the Congo's deposed premier was "massacred yesterday morning" along with two aides said to have fled with him three days earlier.

Godefroid Munongo, the interior minister told reporters:

"I will speak frankly. If people accused us of killing Lumumba, I will reply: 'Prove it.'"

The effect of the slayings was to bring the long-brewing Congo situation to a new crisis holding the threat of civil war. It came as Katanga was flexing its military muscles with a drive which brought a U.N. warning.

Lumumba's death was announced two hours before the U.N. security Council met in New York to deal with the deteriorating Congo situation. There the United States expressed shock at Lumumba's death, and promised cooperation with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld in undertaking a full investigation.

But the Soviet Union, long Lumumba's supporter, said the killing was just another indication of how Hammarskjöld has operated in the Congo with the backing of a U.N. peace force. The Soviet Union said President Tshombe's Katanga government must be made to pay.

In Elisabethville the interior minister refused to name the village where Lumumba died.

"We do not want the Africans of the tribe which killed Lumumba to be identified because they might be the subject of eventual reprisals by Lumumbists," said Munongo.

"This village will be given the total of 400,000 francs — $8,000 — promised by the Katanga Cabinet for the capture of the three men, and I shall say no more about it."

Munongo called Lumumba a criminal responsible for tens of thousands of deaths in Kasai and Katanga provinces, and insisted the handling of the case was a local matter.

Lumumba, firebrand of Congo independence and first premier of the new country, was 35.

"We will not disclose the name of the village nor the tribe to which the villagers belong because we do not want them to suffer any reprisals in the future," Munongo said.

But he asserted they died not far from where their escape car had been found. This spot previously was described as 45 miles from the farmhouse the three men fled Friday. This, in turn, was 220 miles west of Elisabethville.

The death of Lumumba is bound to have widespread repercussions in the Congo, where tribal rivalries are fierce.

He became premier when the Congo attained independence from Belgium last June 3. Soon Soviet technicians and equipment were flowing into the Congo, along with a U. N. peace force of 20,000 men which Lumumba at first welcomed, then repudiated. In September, Congo President Joseph Kasavubu, after weeks of uncertainty, threw Lumumba out of office and sent him to jail for trial on charges of crimes against the nation.

But even in detention Lumumba made his weight felt, and at the time of his death his followers were in control of about a third of the Congo.

Faubus Steps

as the Arkansas Legislature begins its sixth week of work today. Included are an educational construction program, plans to add Social Security to the state's Teacher Retirement System, an adjustment in use tax and sales tax exemptions and the matter of more highway funds for counties and cities.

The House was to convene at 1 p.m. today, then adjourn so members could attend the funeral of Rep. Clay Brazil of Conway County, who died Saturday after suffering a heart attack at his home in Morrilton.

The Senate was not to meet until 2 p.m. and the funeral was scheduled for 3, so senators were not expected to be able to make the 57-mile trip in time for the services.

Once a starting time for a House is set, it cannot be changed.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has said he will go before a joint session of the legislature sometime this week to outline a plan which he said will provide construction funds for the University of Arkansas, the seven state-supported colleges, the State Hospital and the Arkansas Children's Colony. Faubus declined to say what his plan will entail.

A plan to finance a $52 million construction bond issue with a one cent per bottle tax on soft drinks was withdrawn in the House last week by its sponsor, Columbia Rep. Harry B. Colay.

Still pending is a measure to finance the bond issue from general revenue.

The University board of trustees Saturday reaffirmed its belief in the need for an educational construction program and said "it is very urgent that some legislative program come out of the current session which will meet the needs outlined."

Both the House and Senate are scheduled to take up the matter of teacher retirement Wednesday.

Major issue is the question of the state's contribution if Social Security coverage is added to the present retirement program.

Faubus says the state's share should be 5 per cent, while the Arkansas Education Association says the state's contribution be 9.72 per cent. The present state contribution to teacher retirement funds is about 11 per cent, the governor has said.

Contributions by the teachers themselves would remain at the present 5 per cent level under either of the rival plans.

Both chambers have passed bills dealing with the use tax. The Senate approved a bill to remove certain industrial items from the tax and the House approved a measure which would tighten up some of the exemptions.

Machinery and equipment used in manufacturing would be exempted from the use tax under the Senate-passed measure.

The House-passed bill would apply the use tax to materials used in the construction of plants.

A Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee hearing on the House bill is scheduled Tuesday night.

The House went into weekend adjournment rather than take action on a Senate bill to give each county $20,000 to match fed-become a point of contention between East and West. The United Nations Security Council was assembling in New York to deal with the problem today as the Katanga government made its announcement of Lumumba's death.

Some U.N. officials had expressed belief the Katanga government's report of Lumumba's escape last Friday was a story designed to cover up his death.

But Interior Minister Munongo insisted African villagers killed Lumumba, along with two lieutenants, Maurice Mpolo and Joseph Okito, just outside their village Sunday night. He said the three were buried there.

"Three cabinet ministers (of the Katanga government) left by plane to see the bodies in order to investigate the killings," Munongo told reporters.

Munongo said earlier 100 police and provincial troops had been thrown into a search for the Lumumba party, with helicopters and spotter planes. One of these planes sighted the car in which Lumumba supposedly fled.

Katanga Province, headed by Moise Tshombe, broke away from Lumumba's central Congo government as Lumumba took over the prime ministry last summer. This was one of the sorest points the Lumumba regime had to face, because Katanga has most of the Congo's mineral riches.

After his arrest Lumumba was first jailed near Leopoldville. But three weeks ago the ex-premier was brought to Katanga Province on the ground he could be detained more safely here.

Tshombe has insisted Lumumba made a genuine escape last week. But he declared Lumumba's fate was an internal matter and none eral funds for county road construction.

Money for the matching funds would come from the state Highway Department, which is opposed to the bill.

Another Senate bill would give cities an estimated $1.8 million — also from highway department funds — by changing the formula under which such funds are divided between the state and the cities after the counties share has been deducted. The House version of the bill was defeated by the lower chamber.

Both houses passed a measure to give counties an additional $33,000 in turnback funds. The money would come from the general revenue fund.

House trouble appears in store for a Senate — passed measure which would lift the state's 10 per cent ceiling on interest rates for installment buying.

The measure passed the Senate by a vote of 27-6 Wednesday.

Those supporting the bill say automobile and appliance dealers and their financing companies do not receive reasonable profits under the 10 per cent ceiling. Opponents termed the bill "usurious."

A resolution passed Saturday by the Arkansas Young Democrats Club executive committee urged House defeat of the measure.

Three Senate committee hearings are scheduled Wednesday.

The Finance and Banking Committee will take up an administration bill to place mortgage loan companies and loan brokers under regulations of the 1959 securities act.

A House bill which would set up a motor vehicle commission is scheduled for a hearing which would allow licensed practical druggists to fill prescriptions and compound and dispense drugs without the supervision of a registered pharmacist will be discussed by the Public Health Committee.

bigger federal bureaucracy." Loans and grants to depressed areas, Ellender added, "would place the federal government in direct competition with communities in other parts of the country which also are trying to attract new industry."

Speaking along the same lines, Keating said "we've got to make sure we don't go overboard and make things worse. Any bill worth its salt must therefore explicitly prevent the taking of an industry from one distressed area and moving it to another."

Americans for Democratic Action criticized the Kennedy program for not moving fast enough "to get the country out of the recession quickly and fully." The ADA called for an immediate tax cut of $100 per taxpayer.

of the United Nations' business. U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld had sent Brig. Gen. Mengasha Hyassu of Ethiopia, chief of staff of the U.N. command, to investigate Lumumba's fate.

Sunday Tshombe said he was awaiting a full report from his own investigators.

A newspaper in Durban, South Africa, reported from Elisabethville that it was believed the battered, blindfolded ex-premier was shot to death Jan. 17, just after he was flown to Elisabethville from the Leopoldville area for more secure imprisonment.

The U.N. command reported two opposing Congo armies were converging on Bumba, a river town on the frontier of Lumumba-aligned Oriental Province. A third force of Katanga soldiers was on the move in its own province.

The troop movements heightened U.N. officials anxiety that fullscale civil war might break out.

French Won't Accept Red Language

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—France told the Soviet Union Sunday it could not accept some of the language Moscow used in its note protesting the French buzzing of Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev's plane off the Algerian coast.

The French note addressed to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said France will let the Kremlin know the results of its investigation. But the note said "certain terms employed in the Soviet note" sent 123 Saturday are considered inadmissible.

French jet fighters intercepted the Soviet plane last Thursday while Brezhnev was en route to Morocco and Guinea.

The French said one fighter fired warning shots to attract the plane's attention after the four-jet airliner was found too far south of its scheduled course for Morocco and failed to identify itself.

France expressed "sincere regrets" for the incident but insisted its patrols looking for arms shipments to the Algerian rebels have the right to intercept any plane within an 80-mile "zone of responsibility" along the Algerian coast.

The Soviets rejected the explanation, they demanded again that the guilty fliers be punished, accused the French of trying to whitewash the incident and insisted the whole affair was "nothing but an act of international banditry."

In London it was understood France resented the Soviet Union calling its fliers "bandits," objected to a contention that direct shots and not warning shots were fired, and said the Soviets cried falsely of interception over international waters for a plane the French say was off course.

Two other men — Jesse Ray,mond Perry and John Taylor Coggins — were convicted in the bombings and their sentences were upheld previously by the Supreme Court.

A fifth man, Samuel Beavers, pleaded guilty and got a five year suspended sentence.

Wife Asks 'Is It a Sin to Live a Lie'

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
When a married woman realizes she is deeply in love with a man other than her husband and he with her, is it a sin to love one man and live with another?

If it is, why did I ever fall in love with this man?
I have longed, ever since I married 12 years ago, for a home and family. My husband isn't interested in either. He won't work. We didn't have money to pay the bills till I went to work.
My husband and I are 36, the man I love 43. Knowing I am married, he never asks me for a date but when we meet, it is like a magnet pulling and all we can do to keep from rushing into each other's arms. We work in the same office. Everyone in the office knows how we feel. Long before we met I started to save money for a divorce. Should I get one? Isn't it a sin to live a lie? —Cindy

Dear Cindy: Did you ever love your husband? If not, why did you marry? What effect would divorce have upon him? Does he need you? Do you possess the will, despite personal feelings, to live up to your marriage vows?
How can you be sure this passionate love for the other man is not founded on physical attraction rather than mental and spiritual values? Aside from chance office encounters how well do you actually know one another? Would you, should need arise, forsake all others for him?

Before taking a step in either direction, be realistic. Answer these questions honestly. While you're doing this, tell your husband you want to sleep in a separate room. Explain that you've got a problem which you must think through — alone.

Says Students Are Treated Like Babies

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

DETROIT (AP) — If students are treated like babies in high school they can't be expected to act like adults in college.

Lloyd S. Michael, principal of Evanston (Ill.) Township High School voiced that warning today in urging broad new programs of counseling for college students.

In a prepared speech to the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, convening here, Michael said: "In too many high schools the youths are typically treated as immature, irresponsible persons requiring a maximum amount of supervision and control."

"It is folly to assume that these same youths, after a senior prom and a magical summer, are ready to shoulder all the responsibilities of adults in a new environment where they are essentially without restriction and supervision."

Michael said that about one out of four students who enter college drop out by the end of their freshman year, and that only two out of five entering freshmen stay to graduate from the same institution four years later.

With 50 per cent of the nation's high school graduates now going on to college, Michael said, preparation for college is a primary function of the secondary schools. This means, he said, that academic programs must be given more emphasis in high school, and standards of achievement must be raised.

Look how clean flameless electric house heating keeps the modern home

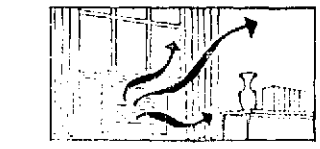

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEATING IS PROVING TO THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES THAT IT'S THE CLEANEST... AND LOWER IN COST THAN MOST PEOPLE REALIZE!

Ceiling Cable heat is invisible. Wires less than 1/8 inch thick are fastened to ceilings before plastering. Each room has its own thermostat control.

Baseboard Units heat by both radiation and convection. All surfaces are warmed evenly, and control is by individual room thermostats.

Wall panels have heating coils behind decorative grille. Small, thin, are sometimes used to heat the back of the thermostatally controlled units.

Heat pump heats the home, winter, cools it in summer. It automatically maintains desired year-around temperature and controls humidity, too.

If dust is a problem in your home, you should know about Electric House Heating. In a word, it's CLEAN. From home after home where Electricity does the heating, you hear comments like these:
"Dusting isn't nearly the nuisance it used to be..."
"Our draperies stay so clean and fresh looking..."
"The walls and ceiling have kept their new look..."

And these are other comments, too... comments such as:
"There just aren't any cold drafts or hot spots..."
"We've never felt so completely comfortable..."
"It's amazing—there's no maintenance to worry over..."

Yes, the Electric Heat will end most of the dirt and dust problem in your home. And to appreciate its true worth, you actually have to visit and realize what individual room comfort can mean to you and your family.

Give some careful thought to modern, flameless Electric Heating. If you're planning to build, buy or modernize, talk over Electric House Heating with the people at your nearest Arkansas Power & Light Company office. In the meantime, for a first-hand story on the many benefits of Electric Heating study the diagrams at the left.

This Is Week for College Cage Teams

By DON WEISS Associated Press Sports Writer

The big conferences, which furnish the bulk of the field for the 25-team NCAA championship tournament, tonight move into what could be a straightening-out week in college basketball.

Key pairings are spread throughout the schedule all week, with the Big Ten, Big Eight, Southeastern and Ohio Valley conferences first off the mark in games that will help fill the NCAA lineup and the National Invitation Tournament as well.

Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeyes, needing the Big Ten title to qualify for defense of their NCAA championship, are home tonight against Northwestern—seeking to stretch their winning streak to 24 before moving to Iowa City for Saturday's showdown with second-place Iowa.

Iowa, still kicking despite the loss of four regulars because of poor grades, is home to Wisconsin tonight. A victory for both the Bucks and Hawkeyes would put Ohio State at 9-0 and Iowa at 6-1 for their Saturday collision.

In the scrambled SEC, Kentucky—a mediocre Wildcat this year—challenges Mississippi State the conference leader with an 8-0 record, a nine-game winning streak and a 1-6-3 over all mark.

SEC runnerup Vanderbilt (6-2) is at LSU with the game taking on added importance because Mississippi State will not go into the NCAA tournament if it wins the conference. State, like two years ago, will pass up the NCAA under an unwritten state law forbidding competition against Negroes.

Also tonight, Kansas and Kansas State resume their duel for the Big Eight title. Ohio Valley Conference leader Western Kentucky is at second-place Eastern Kentucky, and in a big Eastern duel—second-ranked St. Bonaventure (18-1) plays NIT-bound Providence (16-3).

Kansas State is at Colorado and Missouri at Kansas with the Wildcats and Jayhawks currently sharing first place with 6-1 records. Western Kentucky is 7-0 and Eastern Kentucky 6-2 for their OVC duel.

All six members of the nation's top 10 in action now Saturday—topped by Ohio State's 83-68 victory over Michigan State as Jerry Lucas set a Big Ten record of 48 points. Tom Stith had 27 points and Freddie Crawford 26 as St. Bonaventure routed Boston College 103-69. Chet Walker's 31 points led fourth-ranked Bradley over St. Louis 69-54, moving the Braves within a half game of leading Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference.

North Carolina, No. 6, thumped Wake Forest 93-78 with York Larese scoring 30 points and Doug Moe 25 but Kansas State, No. 7, needed Al Peithman's basket with 9 seconds left to edge Iowa State 66-65. Revamped Iowa, No. 9, shrugged off the loss of four regulars and topped Indiana 74-67.

Some of the luster of tonight's St. Bonaventure-Providence match was lost when Rhode Island spilled the Friars, 78-76, for Providence's first loss at home in 37 games.

Palmer and Sanders Meet in Playoff

By CARL BELL

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arnold Palmer and a man who infringed his patent on incredible finishes, Doug Sanders, met today in a golf match that seemingly couldn't be an 18 hole playoff for the Phoenix Open championship.

The winner gets $4,300, the loser $3,000, and each takes a fourth of the day's gate receipts.

Sanders was eight hole strokes behind the front-running Palmer Sunday at the start of what was scheduled as the final round.

He proceeded to slash eight strokes off par to set an Arizona Country Club course record of 62, while Palmer had to scramble for an even par 70. They pulled into the 72-hole mark deadlocked at 270, 10 under par for the distance.

Sanders, 27-year-old advocate of the short backswing, was the picture of perfection as he drove out of the fairway only once; hit every green in regulation and rang up a card of 10 pars and eight birdies.

Palmer also parred his holes, but his four birdies were offset by an equal number of bogeys in his worst round of the tournament.

Palmer came into the 18th needing a birdie 4 to tie. His second shot was in the fringe at the left of the green, 50 feet from the pin. He ran the ball up with his putter but hit it strongly and rolled eight feet past. The great pressure player got down from there for his birdie.

Jack Fleck, who won the Phoenix Open last year in a playoff with Bill Collins, finished one back at 271 for third money of $2,000.

Don January was fourth at 272 for $1,700. Dave Marr and Johnny Pott tied for fifth with 274, winning $1,450 each. Collins and tournament tenderfoot Jackie Cupit of Longview, Tex., each took $1,251 with 275.

Rock at Niagara Falls is being eroded at the rate of four feet a year by the rushing waters.

SEC runnerup Vanderbilt (6-2) is at LSU with the game taking on added importance because Mississippi State will not go into the NCAA tournament if it wins the conference. State, like two years ago, will pass up the NCAA under an unwritten state law forbidding competition against Negroes.

Also tonight, Kansas and Kansas State resume their duel for the Big Eight title. Ohio Valley Conference leader Western Kentucky is at second-place Eastern Kentucky, and in a big Eastern duel—second-ranked St. Bonaventure (18-1) plays NIT-bound Providence (16-3).

Here Is an Account and a Map of Famous U.S. Indians Migration Through Arkansas

EDITOR'S NOTE: The original text and map reproduced on this page were given the Star last week for transmittal to the official archives to be housed in one of the new buildings of the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation. Leonard Graham of Prescott, the Boy Scouts of America are sponsoring an Historic Trails Program nationwide and the following article is an application to the Arkansas scene. The map is a Star photocopy of the western half of the original drawing.

NOTE: This brief history of the passage of the Five Civilized Tribes through Arkansas was taken from writings by Grant Foreman in his famous novel "Indian Removal." Mr. Foreman is recognized as the foremost author on the subject of Indian migrations. First publication of his book was in the year 1932 — this book has been out of print for sometime, but was reprinted by the University of Oklahoma Press in 1953 due to the many demands for this outstanding and authoritative account of the Indian removal.

Although Five Civilized Tribes traveled through the state of Arkansas enroute to the Oklahoma Territory, I have dealt here with only those tribes which were known to have traveled through the Caddo Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. This brief account has been written for the edification and enjoyment of all Scouts within our area. It is my sincere hope that that these Scouts will have a better understanding and true picture of the routes and the Indians themselves in their passage over the famed "Trail of Tears."

Leonard Graham

The Five Civilized Tribes which passed through the state of Arkansas over the "Trail of Tears" were: Cherokee — Location: Tennessee, Chickasaw — Location: Alabama & Mississippi, Creek — Location: Alabama, Seminole — Location: Florida, and the Choctaw — Location: Mississippi. For references to the routes of the above tribes refer to the map on which "Routes of Emigrating Indians — 1822-1840 over "Trail of Tears." This map is a duplication of the map made by Mr. Foreman in 1932.

For our purpose here we will only trace up the routes of the tribes which were known to have traveled through the Caddo Area Council. These tribes being: The Cherokee, the Chickasaw.

Route of the Choctaw Tribes Through Arkansas:

The Choctaw Nation was scattered throughout Mississippi — they resided in these locations:

Extreme northeast, Northwest, from Northwestern Alabama and Central, Southwest and Southeast, Mississippi. The largest group going overland from the Oklahoma Territory both by water and overland.

Routes of the Choctaw: Overland: Extreme Northeast — From above Pontotoc, Miss. overland to Helena, thence to Little Rock, Ark., thence overland passing below Dardanelle, Ark. into Oklahoma to Ft. Coffee.

Northwest — From below Columbus, Miss., to Columbus, Miss., thence to Athens, Miss., thence to Pontotoc, Miss., thence to Memphis, Tenn., thence to St. Francis, Ark., thence to Rock Roe, Ark., thence to Little Rock, Ark., thence overland to Ft. Coffee. Some came from Memphis, Tenn. down the Mississippi River to Montgomery's Point, then up the Arkansas River to Little Rock, Ark., thence on to Ft. Coffee. One group was known to have traveled over the same routes to Little Rock but then going overland by way of Benton, Ark., thence to Washington, Ark., thence to Ft. Towson, Okla. This is the only known group of Chickasaws to have traveled through the Caddo Area Council over the "Trail of Tears."

Important dates and events leading up to and during the removal of the Choctaw Nations to the Indian Territory.

Prior to 1830: Growing unrest among the white settlers of the South who wished the Indian lands for themselves. This continued resentment forced the Federal Government to enact measures which would remove the Indians to the Oklahoma Territory.

1830: States extend criminal laws over the Indians within the states.

1830: January — Mississippi extends criminal laws over the Choctaw and Chickasaw. Alabama extends criminal laws over the Creeks.

1830: Andrew Jackson becomes candidate for the Presidency of the United States. Andrew Jackson was one of the staunchest advocates of Indian Removal. One of the first important measures to be urged by Jackson after his election was what became known as the Indian Removal Bill.

May 28, 1830: Congress enacts this bill into law.

1830: Four days after enactment of this bill, Andrew Jackson sends word by Gen. John H. Eaton, his secretary of war, to summon the delegates of the four tribes who were favorable to removal, to come to a council meeting. Because of strife among the different tribes, only the Chickasaws came to this meeting.

1830: Greenwood Leflore — half breed Choctaw Indian — and chief of one of the three districts of the Choctaw Nation — offers to work with representatives of the government to negotiate removal of the Choctaws to the Indian Territory.

1830: Greenwood Leflore calls a council of the two other districts to change the form of government among the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations. These other two tribes, the Chickasaws, came to this meeting.

1830: March 16, 1830: Greenwood Leflore is elected chief of the Choctaw and the Indians vote in favor of their removal to the Oklahoma Territory.

March 17, 1830: Treaty is prepared by Alexander Tally, a missionary, and signed by the three other chiefs and about 200 Indians. This treaty was delivered to Washington, but was rejected. Because Leflore was a half breed and not a full breed Choctaw, the other Indians did not recognize Leflore as their head chief and did not feel bound by any treaties made by him.

Sept. 15, 1830: Eaton arrives at Dancing Rabbit Creek in the Choctaw Nation to try to negotiate a permanent treaty with the Choctaw.

Sept. 18, 1830: Council begins. Peter P. Pichlynn as chairman of the Choctaw and his father John Pichlynn as interpreter. After nearly two weeks of negotiations, some of the Indians in this council leave for home. John Pichlynn, along with Geo. S. Gaines, a merchant trusted by the Choctaw, made a proposal to send a delegation to examine the western territory prior to the removal. This proposal was accepted by the Choctaw.

Sept. 27, 1830: Choctaw sign treaty with government giving up their lands. Signed by Greenwood Leflore, Mushulatubbe and Nitakechi.

May 28, 1830: Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek is ratified. Choctaw ceded to U.S. all lands owned by them west of the Mississippi River. Government gives Choctaw 3 years to emigrate.

1826: David Folsom made chief over Mushulatubbe.

Dec. 24, 1830: Geo. W. Harkins made chief over Greenwood Leflore.

Oct. 16, 1830: Joel R. Nail made chief over Nitakechi. However the government did not recognize any other chiefs than those that had signed the treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek.

Dec. 1830: Geo. W. Harkins, Robert Folsom and David Folsom return from exploration trip. They crossed Little River, Clear Creek and Gates Creek. Fourth stream crossed was Kiamissa. Buffalo and many other forms of wild life were noted on the west side of the Kiamissa. Cherokee, Creeks, Delaware, and Shawnees were already residing there and requested that the Choctaw permit them to live among them on this land.

Jan. 29, 1831: Choctaw delegation, returning from examining western territory, arrive in Washington, Hempstead County, Ark.

June 1830: First emigrants, 700-800 start over trail. About a week after treaty is signed. They started January. They were going to the Kiamissa River. They camped in 42 different places on this route. Spent five weeks in constructing a boat to ferry them across Saline River.

March 7, 1831: L. J. R. Stevenson, sent by Andrew Jackson, arrived on Kiamichi River to find only 38 out of 1,000 Choctaws who emigrated with earliest group. These were mostly women and children who were half starved.

July 1, 1831: Two small parties arrived at Ft. Towson of the thousands who had made the trip previously only a total of 427 arrived and encamped at Ft. Towson.

Sept. 1830: A census is taken of the Choctaw in Mississippi. It revealed 19,554 Choctaw.

Leflore's District 7,505
Nitakechi's District 6,106
Mushulatubbe's District 5,943

Nov. 1831: Vicksburg was selected as a gathering point for the emigration, 4,000 arrived between 15-20th of November.

Jan. 16, 1831: Mushulatubbe cedes chieftainship to Peter P. Pichlynn. Mushulatubbe means "Determined to Kill."

Dec. 1, 1831: Peter P. Pichlynn with 406 Choctaws embark down Mississippi on steamboat "Brandy Wine."

NOTE: Due to overlapping and repetition of events in Mr. Foreman's narrative of the Choctaw, no attempt has been made by myself in trying to establish these above dates and events in sequence. It would be impossible to completely cover the detailed events and hardships in such short space. For those of you who would like to get a more detailed and accurate insight of the Choctaw Nation, it is suggested that you refer to Mr. Foreman's book "Indian Removal."

I hope that you have enjoyed reading this narrative and have a better understanding of the Choctaw Nation and the "Trail of Tears."

Texas Tech Riding High in Conference

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Tech, riding on top with a five-game winning streak, meets Texas A&M at College Station while Arkansas and Texas battle at Fayetteville Tuesday night in action that could cut the big four of Southwest Conference basketball to two.

These games involve the teams left strictly in the title running. Tech leads with 7-1 while Texas, Arkansas and Texas A & M are tied for second with 5-3.

Texas Tech can become a heavy favorite for the title should it lock the Aggies for the second time—the Red Raiders beat A&M 74-58 to start their streak that has shot them two games out front. The winner of the Arkansas-Texas game would become the leading contender.

Embittered Texas A&M, which fell two games away when it was upset by lowly Texas Christian, 68-66 Saturday night, could throw the race into a three-way proposition by toppling Tech. Then Tech, the Aggies and the Texas-Arkansas winner would be bunched with only a game separating the leaders from the two runners-up.

But there are few who will predict that Texas Tech is to falter now. The Raiders get better with each game and ride high with their Mutt and Jeff combination of big Harold Hudgens and little Del Ray Mounts.

And Tech is doing the best work on the road, the place where championships are won. True the only defeat for the Raiders was on a foreign field when they lost to Texas 63-55, but they beat Arkansas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian away for the best road record in the league.

Tech whipped Arkansas 72-66 and Southern Methodist 68-67 last week while the only other team to win all its games was Texas Christian, which whacked Baylor 85-77 before topping Texas A&M. The Aggies split, with a 79-59 defeat of Rice preceding the TCU upset. Southern Methodist also split, first beating Texas 70 - 63 and then taking the hammering from Tech. Texas managed to trim Baylor 68-65 in its other game of the week.

Rice and Baylor clash at Waco and Southern Methodist takes on Texas Christian at Dallas in other games Tuesday night.

Saturday night Rice and Texas A & M play at Houston, Texas Tech hosts Arkansas, Baylor and Texas Christian tangle at Fort Worth and Texas and Southern Methodist have it out at Austin.

Porkers in 2nd Place in Conference

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —The Arkansas Razorbacks are back in second place in the Southwest Conference basketball race but that position is not nearly so promising as it was a week ago.

The Razorbacks beat Rice Saturday night 84-72 while second-place Texas A&M was losing to Texas Christian 68-66 and falling back into a tie with Arkansas and Texas, which beat Baylor, 68-65.

Now those three are 5-3, two full games behind league-leading Texas Tech, which beat SMU, 68-67. They were tied last week with two losses each.

Arkansas and Texas get a chance to knock each other out of the tie Tuesday night when they met in Barnhill Field House here. Texas won the first match between the two in the season opener in Austin.

Guards Jerry Carlton and Pat Foster did the heavy work for the Porkers in the solid victory over Rice. Foster hit 22 points, including 8 of 10 free throws, and the carlton got 19 points, including 11 from the charity line.

Arkansas led all the way and the closest Rice could get was a four-point margin midway in the second half. Jim Fox led Rice with 17 points.

Clyde Rhoden and Tommy Boyer each scored 13 points for the Razorbacks and Ole Shipley got 14 for Rice.

Bobcats Take a Pair From Camden Teams

By VINCE FOSTER Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope swept two conference games from Camden there Saturday night as the Bobcats came from behind to win 62-43 and the Bobkittens finished their season with a 39-30 win.

The Bobcats started out slow and trailed 12-9 after the first quarter. They narrowed the margin to 25-24 at the half, and then pulled out ahead 33-30 going into the final period. In the fourth quarter they took 19 points and the game, which gives them a 3-3 district record.

Glen Calhoun was high man for the Cats, taking 18 points. This gives him a conference total of 111 points. Robinson took 13, giving him a total of 107. Churchwell and Arnett took 10 each, while Fry sank a free throw.

As usual the Bobkittens had no trouble. They led 3-7, 22-13, 32-18, and 39-30 at the end of each quarter respectively. Burnett was high with 18, and Jones took 15, while McLarty, McDowell, and Thrash sank 2 each.

Saturday morning at Jones Field House, Hope took three wins over Fairview, as the "B" team, the 7th, and the 8th grade teams each were victorious. This gives the "B" team a 5-1 record.

Celtic Bench May Become Regulars

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The fabled Boston bench—one of the best reasons the Celtics have dominated the National Basketball Association in recent years—soon may be playing as much or more than the regulars.

One reason: Bob Cousy has had it.

"I'm beat," the weary Celtic captain said after Boston's 136-125 triumph over Philadelphia Sunday.

"I've never felt like this—physically and mentally—before. Never," the perennia all-star guard emphasized.

"I guess it's a combination of things. I haven't been well physically. Then there's all this travel. And we broke the race open too soon."

"I can't get up for a game when it doesn't mean much. I have to have something to shoot for," he said.

Perhaps, Cousy said, things may be different in the playoffs, but he questioned his value for the rest of the season.

Bill Sharman, Cousy's 34-year-old partner in the backcourt, took a different tack.

"What can you do in 20 minutes?" he asked. "I don't want to say anything against anyone, but I'm not playing as much as I used to. I've always thought you play better after you get your second wind. How are you going to score much in 20 minutes?"

Coush Red Auerbach, advised of the comment of his veterans, made a vague motion of dismissal.

"Aw," he shrugged. "No comment. Look, we won. That's what I care about. We won."

And it was his bench—Bill Sam Jones in particular—that had a big hand in fashioning the Celtics' fifth victory in nine meetings with the Warriors.

Jones, who has keyed the four previous victories over Philadelphia, came off the bench to lead a second period rally that broke the game open.

He scored 15 points in the second quarter and assisted on four other baskets as Boston overcame a 36-28 deficit and snared to a 66-56 halftime lead that stood up the rest of the way.

The victory broke a three-game losing rye and ve hema 6 game easterivision
